1. Introduction

Fitmate is a fitness companion chatbot designed to provide users with information and guidance on various health and wellness topics. This documentation outlines the functionalities of Fitmate, how to interact with it, and its underlying technologies.

2. Features

- Chat Interface: Fitmate provides a chat interface where users can ask questions and receive responses related to fitness, exercise routines, wellness tips, and more.
- Natural Language Processing: Fitmate utilizes SpaCy, a natural language processing library, to understand user input and generate appropriate responses.
- Predefined Responses: Fitmate has predefined responses for common questions and topics related to health and wellness.
- Dynamic Response Generation: Fitmate dynamically generates responses based on user input and predefined patterns.
- Web Interface: Fitmate is accessible via a web interface, allowing users to interact with it from any web browser.

3. Getting Started

To use Fitmate, follow these steps:

1. Open the Fitmate web interface in your preferred web browser.

2. Type your message in the input field and press Enter or click the "Ask" button to send your message.

3. Fitmate will process your message and provide a response based on the input.

Simply type your question or topic of interest, and Fitmate will generate a relevant response.

4. Technologies Used

- Python: Fitmate is developed using Python programming language.
- Flask: Fitmate uses Flask, a micro web framework for Python, to create the web interface.
- SpaCy: Fitmate utilizes SpaCy, an open-source natural language processing library, for understanding user input and generating responses.

- HTML/CSS/JavaScript: Fitmate's web interface is built using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript for user interaction and styling.
